

FUND OF $81,775 WILL BE USED FOR PERMANENT AID

Red Cross Committee Plans
Far-Reaching Assistance for Titanic Widows and Orphans.

QUICK HELP BY WOMEN.

Destitute Survivors Sent to
Their Destinations or Work,
Found for Them Here.

Distribution of the generous fund collected for the Titanic sufferers through Mayor Gaynor, the Stock Exchange and other individual and organized charities is being systematized to-day by the Red Cross Emergency Relief Committee in Room 11, in the arcade of the Metropolitan Life Building, No. 1 Madison avenue.

Jacob H. Schiff, secretary of the New York branch of the Red Cross, announced to-day that the fund turned over to his keeping amounted to $81,775. Checks for several thousand dollars have already been drawn, but contributions continue to pour in almost as fast as it is possible for the committee to distribute the money.

The Red Cross Committee has taken charge of all funds saved those collected by the Women's Relief Committee, headed by Mrs. Nelson Henry. It was decided that the money and great stock of clothing raised through the efforts of these noble-hearted women should be used to give immediate relief to the survivors landed by the Carpathia.

While the Red Cross Committee should make a careful investigation of each sufferer's case with a view to providing permanent aid.

The method employed is to send all distressed survivors to the women's committee rooms on the sixth floor of the Metropolitan Building, where they are being supplied with ample outfit of clothing and funds to keep them in comfortable circumstances pending the action of the Red Cross Committee.

W. Frank Parsons, chairman of the Red Cross committee, held a conference to-day with his assistants, most of whom are women. Another conference will be held to-morrow, and Wednesday, Mr. Parsons said to-day, he will be able to make definite announcement as to just what the committee intends to do with the large fund at its disposal.

The rooms of the committee swarmed to-day with destitute survivors of the great disaster. They were mostly third and second-class passengers who had escaped with little clothing and no money. Many were women and children whose husbands and fathers were left behind to go down with the ship. These are being taken care of first. The young, active men, of whom a goodly number succeeded in keeping afloat until picked up by the lifeboats, will not receive the assistance of the committee until the more pressing cases are attended to.

Whether or not the entire fund would be used could not be ascertained to-day, but it was thought there would be more than enough to serve the needs of the sufferers on this side of the Atlantic. The conferences being held to-day and to-morrow will cover the question. It is expected the distress on the other side will be left to the attention of those in charge of the big fund collected in London.

SEND SUFFERERS TO DESTINATIONS WITH SOME MONEY.
It is not proposed to give large sums of money outright to those fortunate enough to survive the disaster. It is intended merely that the sufferers shall be made as comfortable as possible, sent ultimately to their destinations or wherever they now wish to go, and provided with sufficient means of support to keep them from want until they straitened out their affairs.

In the cases of young male immigrants who rescued themselves and who suffered no loss beyond their clothing and whatever money they had in sailing from England or Ireland, it is proposed to provide for them so they will be in the same position they would have been in had nothing happened to the Titanic.

Further than this, the committee will make every effort to secure work for those who have no immediate prospect of employment.

The newly made widows and orphans will be the principal care. It is expected that an arrangement will be decided upon by which all such sufferers will receive permanent aid.

FIRE DRILL AVERTS PANIC AT JERSEY CITY BLAZE.
200 Girls March Quietly to Street and 150 Orphans Are Ready to Follow.
Discipline and proficiency in fire drill prevented a serious panic among 200 girls and 150 small orphans early to-day in Jersey City when the grocery of Mrs. John McLaughlin, at Washington and York streets, was damaged by fire.

BOATS HALF FULL, AS CAPTAIN CRIED: 'BRING THEM BACK!'

In One of the First Launched
There Were 18 Vacant
Places.

"Bring those boats back; they are only half filled!" yelled Capt. Smith of the Titanic, according to Peter D. Daly of Lima, Peru, one of the first cabin survivors.

"Many boats," says Mr. Daly, "did get away half filled. How many of them obeyed Capt. Smith's order I do not know, but I do know that he rushed to the rail as the boats were leaving and shouted for them to come back for more passengers."

Mr. Daly is a representative of a London firm of stock brokers. He was in his cabin when the Titanic struck and slipped on his overcoat over his pajamas and came on deck to see what the excitement was. Later he went back and dressed, got his valuables and put on a life belt.

He pays a high tribute to the bravery and coolness of the ship's officers. He jumped overboard, assisting a woman, just before the Titanic began to be swept by the waves, and was pulled into a boat by George Rheims and R. N. Williams.

"I am certain," he says, "that many more people could have been saved in the boats. The trouble was that so many would not take the situation seriously. Most of the women seemed to expect to be back on board for breakfast."

German Insurance Companies May Refuse to Pay.
BERLIN, April 22.—A proposal is now being discussed in German circles interested in the reinsurance of the Titanic jointly to refuse payment on the ground that the White Star line was responsible for the accident.
